• You can submit future projects, projects that are already working, or both.
• Collaborative projects can be submitted. In other words: a public institution can be part of the initiative as a collaborator, but the leadership has to come from the organization.
• The deadline for submitting the initiative is September 30, 2020.

Additionally Maria de REAS shares the following information with us:

The objective of Let's Accept the Challenge is to promote inter-cooperation initiatives and give continuity to the FSMET process through the construction of an agenda of inter-confluence dialogues and the selection of 15 initiatives.

An international committee has also been formed to select the 15 initiatives. These initiatives will be presented during the Catalan Social and Solidarity Economy Fair (online in October/November).

4. INTER CONFLUENCES

Participants are informed that the focal points of the different transforming economies have been invited to this meeting. Maria Atienza from REAS, is representing the confluence of Feminist Economics and expresses her interest in being in contact with the confluence of Public Policies.

5. Next steps: Analysis and discussion of We Accept the Challenge and Dynamics of INTER CONFLUENCES

Participants discuss agenda items 3 and 4. They propose:

Regarding Let's Take the Challenge:

The public policy confluence will not present an initiative because our activities do not fall within the scope of this project. Noelia will send an email to Maria Atienza from REAS, member of the coordinating committee of the FSMET to officially communicate this decision.

With respect to the dynamics of Inter confluences:

Participants agreed to carry out an activity in conjunction with interested transformative economies. It is decided collectively:

I. Inter-confluence dynamics

Formally request to the FSMET coordinating committee a space in the FSMET agenda within the framework of the Fair of the Social and Solidarity Economy of Catalonia for the realization of a meeting of inter-confluence dynamics of the transforming economies (Noelia will send an email to Maria de Reas of the FSMET coordinating
In order to organize this dynamic of Inter-confluences, the following questions will be sent to the links of the transforming economies:

1. In addition to the public policy and advocacy work already being done by the different transformative economy movements (e.g. social and solidarity economy, eco/feminism, agro-ecology, common goods), what is the ADDED VALUE of working together on public policy for transformative economies?

2. What would be the three main objectives of a common public policy agenda for transformation economies (focus on what we can achieve together by all movements of transformation economies working together)

3. What concrete follow-up would you suggest to move this common agenda forward?

Deadline for sending the answers: Monday 12 October 2020.

II. Organize an open meeting of the public policy confluence

It is also proposed to hold an OPEN meeting of the confluence of public policies of the FSMET within the framework of the activities of the Fair of the Social and Solidarity Economy of Catalonia with the aim of

1. To make known the work that this confluence has been doing
2. Invite to join this confluence
3. Analyze how we process the agenda of inter-conference dialogues
