1. This is the “general view” of the map with all the organizations. You can zoom the organizations using the buttons at the top “+”, “-“.
2. In this example you can see the description of the organization on the left, and on the right you can see the logo of the organization and its economic-political paradigms (colors above). In this case, and following the legend they would be: Libertarian, Participatory Economy, Solidarity Economy and The Commons.

3. Here you can change the view of the map
4. In the "mode of work" view you will find the organizations divided into 5 different groups. Each group has been assigned a number depending on whether its work is more focused on theory (1) or practice (5).
5. Here you can find organizations that are positioned at number 5, i.e. whose work is more practice-related. This allows us to generate links and intercooperation between the different organizations/actors.
6. The view output - Work area Organize the different stakeholders according to these categories

8. If you press the gray buttons you will see the organizations related to that work area, whose description is on the left side of the screen. In this case we have selected the working area: Environment.
9. The "geographic scope" view allows you to organise organizations into those with Local, National, Regional, International or a mix of these. In this way, you can see the interrelationships with the organizations.
10. In the view "type of organization", the different actors are organized according to: Non-profit, cooperative, network, enterprise, community-based organization, education institution, Freelance, Academic institution. In addition to being organized into different groups, there is a colour legend that follows this scheme. Finally, the size of their logos in this case refers to the "lens of work", being small if it is issue-based and large if it is systemic.
